Creating Smiles in Doylestown with a Comprehensive Approach to Dentistry

With the smell of fresh coffee brewing, the sound of laughter coming from the back room, and a greeting from a sweet little dog named Lela, it's hard to believe one is walking into a dentist appointment at Dr. Beth Snyder's office. There is a general positive energy in the air, with pictures of smiling patients adorning the walls and a friendly staff busy working alongside one another.

"I want to make sure I am thorough and understand the total picture comprehensively, not just their teeth."

DR. BETH SNYDER

"These patients are like my family," says Snyder. "It brings me joy to see the pictures of them smiling on my walls every day."

Snyder and her associate, Dr. Lisa Perrotta, along with their team of professionals, offer general practice dentistry along with cosmetic and restorative services. The practice also specializes in neuromuscular dentistry and treating sleep apnea and TMJ disorders. Snyder derives her passion for the profession from her own experiences with TMJ pain, and has a personal interest in finding the best quality and most comprehensive treatments for her patients.

"I meet with every new patient to talk in detail about their goals and concerns," says Snyder. "I want to make sure I am thorough and understand the total picture holistically, not just their teeth."

From the massage pads in the chairs and private video monitors to the computer-controlled, virtually pain-free anesthesia delivery, the practice prides itself on going above and beyond in creating a stress-free experience for every patient. If you are feeling particularly anxious, you can even play with Snyder's new dog at the office – a happy, bouncy Yorkie mix – to calm your nerves.

Investing in state-of-the-art technology to be the most efficient provider of dental services is one of the priorities for Snyder's practice. Among the cutting edge advancements available are a digital scanner for impressions, allowing for precise results without the gooey mess. Same-day custom-designed crowns, computerized single-tooth, painless anesthesia injections and a 3D digital imaging system for diagnosis without invasive surgical explorations are also available.

Snyder, a long-time resident of Doylestown, is passionate about her community. She serves on the Board of the Heritage Conservancy and is a member of the Central Bucks Chamber of Commerce.

"I'm a townie," laughs Snyder. "I love everything about Doylestown, with all the great restaurants, shopping, and museums and, of course, the people. It's a wonderful place to live and work." | r
